Reno AVI (Automatic Vehicle Identification)

Warranty
Terms & Conditions of Sale

All statements, technical information and recommendations contained herein are based on tests we believe to be reliable but the accuracy or completeness thereof is not guaranteed, and the following is made in lieu of all warranties, express or implied, including the implied warranty of fitness for purpose.

Reno A&E hereby warrants that the Reno A&E AVI transmitter and receiver units referred to herein will be delivered in satisfactory operating condition and will, upon delivery, be of merchantable quality. Reno A&E further warrants that provided the product has been properly installed and operated by the purchaser, Reno A&E will either repair or replace without charge any unit found to be defective in workmanship or material during the first 2 years from date of shipment (from Reno A&E). The foregoing will not apply to any system component, which has been:

(1) Repaired or modified by persons unauthorized by Reno A&E so that, in Reno A&E's sole judgment, the stability or reliability of such components is affected; or (2) Subjected to misuse, negligence or accident. The above shall apply only to those components comprising the Reno Automatic Vehicle Identification Systems referred to herein as sold by Reno A&E.

In no event shall Reno A&E be liable for any injury, loss or damage, whether direct, consequential or incidental to person's or property arising out of purchaser's ability or inability to use said system.

Reno A&E reserves the right to make any changes in the design or construction of the system or components at any time without incurring any obligation to make any changes whatsoever in the system or components previously sold and delivered.

Statements or recommendations not contained herein shall have no force or effect unless in an agreement signed by officers of seller and manufacturer.
